

Dear FCC,I am frequent business flyer, logging over 40 flights per year, and while I would like to use my cell phone while flying at times, I do not want to see the restrictions on cell phone usage lifted. I have sat next to cell phone users just prior to take-off and after landing and it is extremely annoying. I could not imagine what it would be like with a half-planeload of people using the phone during a 2 hour flight. If the ban were lifted, I would also consider not flying, but driving to some locations, to avoid the aggravation. Thank you. Don
